

Gentle resolve

The quest begins,
a journey of two score days.
Will our resolve remain pure?
Dare we peek into the maelstrom
of our human heart?
Our course is set
but can we steer clear of our deep sirens?
We will take on water
and make the occasional misstep.
Yet the gentle hands
will guide us through.
So watch and wait and learn,
be quiet and see the restoration of our soul.

M. Green, February '20

Note: part of the lent series, the image is taken from the web.

What will you put down over the lent season, what will you take up. What will you see and understand of yourself and your Lord, master, lover and friend?