

Marketplace

Take the stillness
of the mountain top.
To the marketplace
of today.
Hear the still small voice
in the cacophony of the day.
Stillness with every step.

M. Green, March '20

Note: part of the lent series, the image is taken from the web. The current news of isolation in the world should not be feared, by embraced, as an opportunity to get to know the real you and God beside you.